

Combatting Online Holocaust Denial: A Short Compendium

Call for Papers

The Coalition to Counter Online Antisemitism (CCOA) is seeking submissions for a research compendium on online Holocaust denial and distortion.

‘Combatting Online Holocaust Denial: A Short Compendium’ (interim title), will be published in January 2024 in advance of Holocaust Memorial Day, based off this year’s theme, ‘Fragility of Freedom’. To showcase the expertise in the coalition and the breadth of challenges faced, it will feature 6 contributions from CCOA members across the five countries and three working groups; research, policy and education. We are interested to hear from researchers, policymakers, and civil society organisations with perspectives on the contemporary challenges presented by online Holocaust denial, which may include the following topics:

- Machine learning or ‘big data’ approaches to detecting and mitigating Holocaust denial on social media;
- Visual imagery, memes and aesthetic culture with relation to Holocaust denial;
- Holocaust denial and revisionism in the emerging technological landscape, including the risks and opportunities presented by generative AI;
- The introduction of the DSA regulation framework with relation to platforms’ implementation of content moderation policies surrounding online antisemitism and Holocaust denial;
- Legal thresholds for Holocaust denial as a form of online hate speech;
- Harnessing social media as a tool for education about the Holocaust;
- Holocaust education in the digital age and post-survivor era;
- AI literacy and building resilience to online Holocaust denial and distortion.

Details

Abstracts should be 150-200 words, outlining the key issues the article will aim to address, and the methodologies used.

Final papers will be expected to total approx. 1500 words (excluding footnotes).

All submissions should be in English and will be reviewed in an editorial process. Successful submissions will be remunerated €400.

Timeline

6 October 2023 – call for abstracts opens.

20 October 2023 – call for abstracts closes.

3 November 2023 – authors notified of outcome.

4 December 2023 – deadline for first drafts of papers and peer-review.

4 January 2024 - deadline for final drafts of papers.

W/c 24 January 2024 – publication.

Please send abstracts along with name and affiliation to hro@isdglobal.org by Friday 20 October 2023.